

Large Scale Humanitarian Disaster in Chechnya

Because of the five years long second conflict with Russia, Chechnya experiences a large scale humanitarian disaster: at least 15% of its population had been exterminated. Torture, rape, extra-judicial killings, Russian death squads terrorizing the population are an every day reality, and now refugees are also forced back to the war zones by Russians. Chechens are suffering disappearances at the Russian night raids, tortures and hunt on the male population beginning from 12 years old, as well as assault and rape of women and girls. The most vulnerable, saying it mildly, folk in the Caucasus that is under threat of extinction is Chechens. The genocidal war in Chechnya is continuing, taking more and more perverted and terribly twisted form. But the politicians in the world put up a mask of ignorance and surprise at the word "genocidal". They play games or trade with Russia at the expense of the Chechen people. Every 15 minutes a Chechen disappears. It means that he abducted by Russian Forces, taken to "unknown direction" to be tortured or held in order to be released for ransom from his relatives, or secretly killed and buried in a concealed mass grave. Almost a quarter of one million of Chechens have been killed or tortured to death in concentration ("filtration") camps. Russian lies and cynics continue: terror in Chechnya is not at all diminished. Meaning "We still could not kill all Chechens - give us more time to kill them all". The war leaves only two possible ways out to the Chechen people: a hopeless, deadly resistance to "Russian death squadrons" acting under the cover of Russian force structures beyond all legal and human laws, - or a slow death in the totally isolated "ghetto," starvation, privations, total injustice and endless humiliations. The war turns all surviving Chechens, even those who used to be loyal, into Russia's eternal enemies. The war impedes the development of the Russian economy, contributes to the widening gap between a handful of super nouveaux riches who made their bloody business on this war and the majority of the population of Russia which hardly survives on the edge between poverty and destitution. The war turns Chechnya into "a free criminal zone," the different criminal elements from Russian organized crime, use it. This zone causes metastasis all around Russia, feeding the crime, "justifying" antidemocratic measures, spreading xenophobia, fear, hatred and desperation in the society - the moods on which fascist regimes appear. Now Russia is consistently getting rid of mass media honestly reporting the unpleasant truth; democratic politicians are being eliminated, including by open and secret killings. The war pushed Russia towards establishing a repressive regime, more and more resembling the Stalin regime. Objective circumstances, and first of all, the war against the Chechen people, will drive to further development, even if Russia's leaders, having realized into what abyss they are throwing down the country. I must say something to the decent Russian citizens. Sorry I used harsh sentences about Russians. I know very decent Russians who live here. They are good people. But we must not forget one thing. The crimes and massacres in Chechnya are not being committed by aliens from outer space. They are your sons who are committing these crimes. Please try to stop these.
